

Thanks For Your Service, Claudette

After three and a half years of dedicated service, Claudette Grant has decided to move on from her position as Community Organizer at Friendship Court to join Big Brothers Big Sisters. Her last day will be April 16. During her time at Friendship Court, Claudette has worked tremendously hard to balance the complex and ever-changing demands of her role as Community Organizer. She has played a key role in fostering the resident participation that continues to guide the future of Friendship Court.

It is impossible for us to measure just how many lives she has impacted. We will never be able to fill Claudette's shoes, yet we can and will work to honor and build upon the legacy that she established. She is leaving with Friendship Court in a good place. Claudette has guided the Advisory Committee to a place of trust and vision. Claudette helped facilitate the redevelopment plan that you all co-designed. These successes are the foundation we will build upon.

More information about a celebration for Claudette will be available soon.

Preparation Underway for Management Transition at Friendship Court

Piedmont Housing Alliance (Piedmont Housing) will begin managing the Friendship Court Apartments Community in May. While Piedmont Housing is already an owner of Friendship Court, and leading the redevelopment, Edgewood Management, currently manages the property.

The transition marks the next step in our ongoing efforts to make Friendship Court a wonderful place to live for residents. Staff is already being shored up to meet the residents' needs.

At this stage in the transition, decisions about what Edgewood staff will stay on at Friendship Court have been finalized. We recently began recruiting for a Community Manager, Maintenance Supervisor and Community Administrative Assistant. More information about these positions is available at the community center and on the Piedmont Housing Alliance website.
